presents

a Botanical Art Workshop

with

Mali Moir

This is a special opportunity for FOBG. Mali, our gorgeous leader is an accomplished artist and graduate of Burnley.

Mali can cater for all levels of expertise, from the “I really can’t draw” to “I need some help with this”.

The Programme

Using the Burnley Gardens as inspiration, Mali starts the workshop by helping you to create a measured drawing that you shade to a tonal drawing.

After lunch you look at colour and try painting with watercolours, coloured pencils or even watercolour pencils.

About Mali: After horticulture, Mali studied botanical art and went on to work as the botanical illustrator at the Royal Botanic Gardens. She now exhibits her work and runs botanical art classes.*
